Washington, Dec. 1 (P)—The break in Michigan between Governor G. Mennen Williams and John R. Franco was evidently as final and complete today as it could be.

Williams went on record with indications that he'll oppose Franco's retention as state Democratic chairman.

The young Democratic governor-elect made his position virtually irrevocable in an interview yesterday after his tour of high capital offices.

Referring to the Democratic primary in Michigan, Williams said "Franco did not support me" and he said he expected to oppose the Pontiac man's retention.

Williams also disclosed that Franco recently failed to "take an opportunity we gave him to resign."

This would seem to indicate that Franco might yet try to make a fight over the party chairmanship. His term ends next spring.

It was abundantly evident during Williams' victorious campaign that the new party leadership and Franco were on the outs.

At his press conference Williams wouldn't say anything about a report that his law partner, Hicks G. Griffiths, was going to be his choice for the chairmanship.

Griffiths was one of Williams' top strategists in the election campaign.

In the company of Griffiths and assistant secretary of labor John W. Gibson, Williams called on President Truman at the White House.

They talked politics, housing, education and old age pension assistance, Williams said.

The president, he added, promised to go "right down the line on his Democratic platform pledges."

Commenting on the Democratic party's future in Michigan, Williams said:

"I told the president we are going to build up a Democratic party that will make a good showing in 1950 and 1952."

Revolver Hidden In Bag; Police Trace Clues

Detroit, Dec. 1 (P)—Salvage stores and second-hand shops were investigated for clues today to a gunman who shot and wounded Attorney Anthony (Tony) Maillou.

The 62-year-old colorful criminal lawyer of the prohibition era was shot in the vestibule of his lavishly Chicago boulevard home last night by an intruder who dropped a Marine Corps winter dress cap in his flight.

Police found the cap on the lawn. It bore no insignia, indicating it had been purchased at a store.

Maillou was shot in the groin. Henry Ford hospital said his wound was serious but that he would recover.

The Italian-born lawyer, best known for his defense of prohibition era gangsters, said he did not recognize his assailant. He said he knew of no reason for the attack.

Police were told that the intruder, grey-haired, tall and about 55 years old, fled deliberately at Maillou with a .45 revolver concealed in a paper bag.

Then he made a gadget from a hat-stretcher and two boards. Saturday night he set out to make his $70,000 dream come true.

He unlocked the door to the night depository, slipped the gadget in, and watched from a distance.

A depositor tossed some money bags down the chute, and left. Bowers fished them out. Two other late depositors also plumped in more money bags. Bowers fished them out also. It was that easy.

He left and counted his loot—$5,529.62 in cash and about $900 in checks. Bowers threw the checks into the St. Johns river and went back for another whirl with his gadget.

An excited crowd was milling around the night depository. Someone had discovered the gadget in the chute, so Bowers took off on the double.

A bystander, however, noticed his excitement, and gave his description to the police, who lost no time in picking him up. Some of the cash was in his pockets and some in a tool chest.

Pitchblende Strike Causes Mining Boom Near North Bay, Ont.

North Bay, Ont., Dec. 1 (P)—Some 300 mining claims have been staked 50 miles southeast of North Bay following reported finds of radio-active pitchblende. J. J. McCrea of Burks Falls, one of the prospectors, said today the striking covered a 20-square mile area.

The plan was recommended by former President Herbert Hoover, who heads a bipartisan commission which will recommend changes in the executive branch of the government to the next session of Congress.

Hoover made known Mr. Truman's approval of the plan following a 45-minute conference at the White House. Hoover also announced an aim to increase federal salaries, especially in the top brackets, but did not say whether the president had okayed it.

Also increased, from 24,000 to 30,000, was the acreage north of the Kalamazoo river in which permit holders may hunt.

Last year about 50 deer were killed in the area during the special season.

City of Manistee Tax Rate $46.30

Manistee, Mich., Dec. 1 (P)—City officials today sought to ward off anticipated protests as property owners received tax bills at the highest rate in the city's history—$46.30 per thousand. Last year's rate was $40.55.

In a special statement accompanying the bills the city blamed the increase on action of the county board of supervisors in boosting the city's assessed and equalized valuations.

City spokesmen said the formal explanation was issued in view of taxpayer protests brewing since last year when city property was reassessed and values increased as much as 50 per cent.

Prison Guard Stricken

Jackson, (P)—Harry W. Reinhart, 70-year-old Southern Michigan prison guard, was stricken by a fatal heart attack Tuesday while driving to work from his home in Dansville, Mich. A fellow guard, Ralph Spooner, grabbed the wheel when Reinhart collapsed and drove him to the prison.

Grand Rapids Man; 3 Boys Orphaned

Grand Rapids, Dec. 1 (P)—Three boys were orphaned early today when their father was killed in an automobile accident.

Vern H. Simpson, 39, died of a crushed skull when his auto crashed into a utility pole. Police said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Simpson's wife, Florence, died a year ago. Their three sons, George, 15, Donald, 14, and David 18 months, are being cared for by their grandparents.

Find Ingallsion Man, 79; Was Lost In Woods 35 Hours

Albert Kratochvil, 79-year-old Ingallsion township resident, was found in the woods at 1 o'clock this morning by searchers who reported the aged man was "in good condition" despite the 35 hours he was lost after leaving at 2 p. m. Monday to go hunting.

Conservation Officers Clarence Lienna of Stephenson reported that Kratochvil was "weak and shaky" but otherwise unharmed. Kratochvil was still walking when found about three miles from the place where he entered the woods Monday afternoon. The tracks of the aged man were found in the snow and these were followed by officers and volunteers who composed a posse of about 20 men organized for the search.

The old man left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sylvester, Ingallsion township, Menominee county, with a 22 caliber rifle, saying he was going hunting. When he did not return Monday evening the search began, continuing through Monday night and until he was found early this morning.

State police, conservation officers of the Menominee sheriff's office, and volunteers participated in the rescue effort.

Conservation Law Changes Get Study

Lansing (AP)—The Conservation Commission is scheduled to come to a decision at its meeting next Friday on its recommendations to the 1949 legislature for changes in the conservation laws.

Under discussion are proposals to remove the size limit on panfish, permit the commission to charge admission or parking and camping fees at State Parks, and to require guns carried in cars to be cased all year around.

The commission is also seeking to reach an agreement on a recommendation for a law to permit harvesting of more deer by hunters in areas where over-population is producing winter starvation deaths.

OLD GOGGLES
A grave in Alaska, dating back several thousand years, contained a pair of ivory "snow goggles," with narrow slits to shut out the glare of sunshine on snow.

That fine game bird, the Wilson snipe, is often referred to as a shad bird or shad spirit because it is said to appear when the shad bush blossoms and the first run of shad starts up the coastal rivers to spawn.

January brings coldest temperatures to the United States, but snowfalls average deeper in February.

Gunfire Of Hunters Fatal To 110 So Far

Chicago, Dec. 1 (AP)—At least been killed so far this season by gunfire while hunting deer.

Other fatalities in connection with the deer hunting trips—drownings, auto accidents and heart ailments—boosted the death toll to more than 200.

The gunfire toll probably will surpass last year's, when 141 hunters were fatally shot. In some states this year's hunting season has not ended or has not begun.

A survey by the Associated Press showed Maine leading the list of reported gunfire casualties with 17.

New York counted 16, Colorado 11, Michigan 10, Wisconsin 10, Idaho 9 and Oregon 7. The New York, Colorado and Idaho totals are record highs.

In Texas, where an average of 28 deer hunters are killed each year, only three have been fatally shot this season. But the season began only last Friday and doesn't end until Dec. 31.

The Texas toll in the past has been among the highest. In Pennsylvania, where the number of licensed hunters fell from 850,000 last year to 550,000 this year, the worst year was in 1931, when 72 game hunters died. The season closed Monday. It will close Dec. 11.

Four Shoot At One
Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Washington, Oregon and Wisconsin have reported record high totals of from 10 to 21 hunter deaths in recent years.

The death toll is more than doubled by causes incident to hunting. For instance, in Washington this year the 13 dead from various causes included three shot when mistaken for deer; three drowned; four dead of heart failure, two asphyxiated in automobiles, and one who was accidentally shot before he left home.

In Wisconsin this year, one hunter was killed while he became the target of four or more other hunters, all of whom mistook him for a deer. Another hunter killed two others when he said, he "fired at a woodpecker."

There are at least 3,117,000 licensed deer hunters in the nation. This is slightly below last year's 3,284,700, but some states have shown large increases. Among states with large numbers of licensed hunters are Pennsylvania, with 550,000; Michigan 330,000; New York 325,000; California 300,000; Virginia 260,000; Texas 254,000; Wisconsin 200,000; Maine 186,170; Washington 136,000; Minnesota 165,000; Colorado 125,000; Utah 95,000; and Idaho 85,000.

In some states—Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Rhode Island, and Tennessee—deer hunting is not allowed.

But that doesn't always prevent fatalities. In Connecticut this year a woman was killed when her husband took an illegal shot at a deer.

Dedication Service At Salem Church In Bark River Sunday

Following the annual business meeting at Salem Lutheran church, Bark River, Sunday, December 5, a dedication service for its new addition will be held at 3:30 p. m. Pastor Gustav Lund, of Escanaba, will represent the Superior Conference of the Augustana Lutheran church at this service. He will have a part in the dedication ceremony and give a brief message.

The addition to Salem Lutheran church consists of an entirely new enclosed entrance and main stairway to the church sanctuary. This includes also a new stairway to the basement on either side of the stairway, and a new stairway to the balcony. A new basement floor has replaced the old floor which had been in for years and had become quite treacherous. All of this renovation and improvement has involved an expenditure of approximately $4,000.00. This project, which had been in mind for several years because of the hazardous steps approaching the church, had been delayed because of the building situation.

This is the first major improvement project since 1937 when a small addition was made on the back of the church and the inside walls and ceiling were renovated with celotex. This congregation was organized in 1883, and the present building was first constructed a few years after that. Although the main work of the project is finished, there are still some minor additions and repairs necessary to make it complete. It is hoped to do some landscaping around the building next spring.

The pastor of the church is the Rev. Maynard O. Hansen, who took charge on July 1st of this year. Members and friends alike are invited to attend this service. All members are expected to be at the annual business meeting at 2 p. m.

With The Deer Hunters

Mrs. X. G. Royer of Lake Shore Drive closed the season by bagging an eight-point 160-pound buck yesterday, last day of the hunting season. Roland and Vernon Royer on the first day of the season, Nov. 15, each killed bucks, eight and eleven point antlers, respectively.

Safe Driving Tips For Winter Roads Offered By Police

Cooperating with national safety and law enforcement authorities, Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer today listed new driving rules that, if carefully considered, will prevent many accidents during the hazardous winter weather.

Chief Ettenhofer said that scientific tests and research by the National Safety Council are the basis for these rules, and added, "Only sincere thinking of these rules will save motorists from being involved in serious accidents and traffic tie-ups."

1. When starting out on ice or snow, get the "feel" of the road surface. Test your braking and acceleration when clear of other cars.
2. Reduce speed when road surfaces are snowy or icy. Remember that it takes 3 to 12 times more distance to stop on snow or ice than on dry pavement.
3. Keep snow and ice off the Lemmer will explain the work of the special education department. After the films, parents will meet with their children's teachers, and will receive report cards of the students.

Roofing Stolen—Three rolls of felt roofing were stolen from the Jewel Tea Warehouse site in the 800 block of First avenue north, Alfred Brandt, building contractor, has reported to city police.

School Assembly—Students of the fifth and sixth grades and the junior high school students heard a program by Tom and Arlene Hadley this afternoon at the Junior high school. The Hadleys are here under the auspices of the University of Michigan and the Wolverine Conservation club as the first of the Hiawathan Wildlife series.

outside of the windshield as well as fog and frost inside. Be sure your defroster and wipers are working. Watch out for pedestrians.

4. Never warm up your car in a closed garage. Carbon monoxide poisoning is dangerous. Also check floor boards and exhaust system for leaks. Examine heater for possible defects.

5. When treacherous snow or ice prevail on the streets, use steel tire chains. They reduce braking distance for cars and trucks from 40 to 70 per cent, and provide traction.

6. If possible, have tires with good treads. They provide better stopping ability on both dry and wet pavement, but do not depend on even new rubber treads on packed snow or ice. Tests also show that "rubber tire chains," while nice and quiet, actually skid faster than hard tires on ice. So, "don't skid yourself."

"In Northern states the traffic accident death rate goes up 24 to 53 per cent over summer rates. Now, with more automobiles on the road than last winter, every driver must exert extra caution, both with his own driving and the other fellow's. If drivers will do this, and stick to the rules listed, we know that we can continue to reduce unnecessary traffic accidents and tie-ups this winter, the Chief concluded.

FISH SHIPPING RATE OPPOSED

Rail Rate Boost Rapped By Local Dealers

Expressing opposition to the proposal of the Railway Express Agency to increase by 25 per cent the express charges now paid by fish dealers on shipments of fish, Roy Jensen of the Jensen & Jensen fish market in Escanaba said today that he and other wholesale dealers in this area plan to ship fish in refrigerated trucks.

In Washington, D. C., on Nov. 19, the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered the proposed rate increase held in abeyance and scheduled a formal hearing on the whole problem. The hearing is set for January 6, 1949.

At the Nov. 19 hearing in Washington, the National Fisheries Institute directed attention to the planned arrangement of Jensen & Jensen, wholesale dealers in Garden and three in Marinette, to ship to New York, Philadelphia and Detroit by refrigerated trucks.

The Railway Express company seeks to obtain added revenue by increasing the charge for ice to protect fish in transit. Dealers are already paying a 25 per cent icing charge on each box of fish shipped. The National Fisheries Institute reported that the proposed increase would cost another $4 million to $5 million, and that is more than the fish industry can stand, being in many cases the difference between "life and death for the small dealer."

"Shipping by truck would be nothing new for us," Jensen explained. "We have been shipping live suckers by tank truck to New York for several years. Local truck lines, we are told, can get out iced fish to New York in 54 hours, which compares favorably with the time in transit by rail."

Jensen said the Railway Express shipping cost to New York is now 7 cents per pound, compared with 5 some time ago. The proposed increase would boost the cost to 9 cents a pound.

School at Pontiac Gets Traffic Light For Death Corner

Lansing, (P)—The embattled parents of the Daniel Whitfield school near Pontiac were assured Tuesday that a traffic light would be installed in front of the school.

J. Carl McMonagle, director of the highway department planning and traffic division, in a letter to Frank Du Frain, Pontiac school superintendent, said that approval of the light carried two conditions.

They were:

1. Hiring of a "competent crossing supervisor" to assist children across the road while the light is operating.

2. Participation in maintenance and operation of the light by the township or county.

An eight-member delegation from the school called on McMonagle Nov. 18 to demand the light. They appointed themselves traffic officers to help children across the street after little Muriel Hernandez was killed when she ran into the side of a truck Nov. 8 on M-218 (Orchard Lake picture was taken with the camera facing westward. Yuletide shopping got well underway this week.

SANTA CLAUS LANE—Ludington street is now decorated with colored lights and greens for the Christmas shopping season. The above

Merchants Say Santa Will Buy Heavily Here Again This Year

Santa Claus shouldn't have any trouble filling stockings this Christmas.

A much greater selection of toys, clothing, and candy is available this year. The quality runs better than during the war years. So does the price, but, "the better the product the better the price."

Already mothers, fathers and other gift buyers have "shelled out" for early purchases. Household appliances and clothing and some toys lead this catalog of early purchases.

One of the most notable features of Christmas shopping this year is the "lay-away" plan. Several stores have shelf after shelf filled with Christmas packages. Most retailers say buyers are really "shopping" this year. They price in several stores, then return to buy where their money does most.

As one merchant put it, "Last year they looked carefully to see if the article was what they wanted—pulled out their billfolds and said, 'I'll take it. This year everyone is asking, 'How much is it?'"

The price of everything holds about the same this season as in the previous one. Notable exception is candy. The supply is more plentiful, except for chocolate, and prices are down.

Shopping Season Under Way
Shopping for the Yuletide went off with a bang in Escanaba the day after Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving thoughts may have helped, but mostly it was an early start to permit adequate budgeting.

Speaking of budgets, nearly $200,000 in Christmas savings money was mailed by Escanaba's three banks Tuesday night. The sum represented the combined savings of over 2500 persons. Leader in the Christmas accounts was the State Savings Bank which mailed nearly $130,000.

Women evidently are sewing and knitting many gifts this year. An Escanaba sewing machine company reports that every one of its machines have been rented out and that sales have been high. Knitting needles are being bought in large numbers every day.

Flower dealers report a fair advance of Christmas orders. Already poinsettias, the white cyclamens, cherry plants and holly and mistletoe are going on display.

Practical Gifts Favored
Several merchants find that the trend this season is for practical gift-giving. Some stores report a heavy advance sale of toys. Some stock in the toy line is already depleted and can not be replaced except by special order.

The outlook in business is definitely bright. Nearly all merchants feel that neither the high cost of living nor the slope in business the past few months will affect Christmas shopping.

Despite shortages of Christmas tree bulbs, and some toys, Santa's helpers should be able to do a good job.

As one early shopper said, "Things could be worse . . . and they could be better."

The latest rage in Christmas music is Spike Jones' "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth."

BIGGEST BEAR
The most bulky of carnivores, the Kodiak bear, attains the largest size of all known bears. Some of the intermediate species weigh as much as 1200 pounds.

A tree can grow to little more than 300 feet tall because mechanical laws make it impossible for a higher tree to stay erect.

Edward Murray, 79, Crystal Falls, Dies, Funeral Here Friday

J., and Clifford of St. Louis, Mo.; eight grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Tom Byrne of Escanaba, and four brothers, Stephen Murray, Escanaba, John of Grand Rapids, Frank of Masonville and William, Ishpeming.

The body will be in state at the Alto funeral home Thursday evening. Services will be held at St. Joseph's church at 9 a. m. Friday. Rev. Fr. Patrick, O. F. M., officiating, and burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

When you see a "falling star" flash across the sky, you are really looking at a bit of a comet crashing into the earth's atmosphere. All or nearly all of the bright "falling stars" or meteors you spot are debris of comets.

Electrical science has produced a new wax to coat its wiring. The special wax makes the electrical wiring so slick it can be pulled through sharp angles of conduit 50 per cent easier—and faster.

Writer Thinks News Is Overplayed

By Robert C. Ruark
New York—If I may knock my own racket a little bit, I think we are a touch old-fashioned in our persistent servile reverence before royalty. I think we overplay the importance of foreign blue blood in the life of the man who buys the newspaper. Certainly we overstress the news value of some bucktoothed noble merely because he has lord or duke or just plain sir glued on the front end of his handle. He couldn't rate space in the news space on his own hook.

Kings and dukes and such don't cut a great deal of ice any more, even the few who still function. Speaking as an ordinary man, they sure don't enrich my life any. They are a little bit pathetic in their playacting, even the best of the crop. We watched the good George of England get up the other day, with a socialist gun in his back, and cheerfully recommend the socialization of steel. That would approximate to the greatest cartel in the history of cartelization, and I seem to have read that we just fought a war to bust 'em up.

Just Human Beings
The lower-case grandees don't figure in the book at all. They get drunk and have divorces and fight in the kitchen about like you or me. Most of them seem to have vestigial chins or horse profiles, and I doubt very much that they sell many papers unless they do something dramatic, like getting shot. Even their own trusting lower-classes are beginning to holler for an audit on the books, as witness the recent business with the gawkwar of Baroda. Taxpayers yelled that he blew 10 million on a pleasure jaunt, and told him to come home and explain himself.

A long time ago, when we still classified ourselves as colonists—back in the days when the prince of Wales was sending delicious shivers up American female spines—I suppose the titled Britisher did pack a vicarious thrill for the commoners. But when the prince flew the coop, he took most of the romance with him.

Today, my heart fails to leap up when I see the Marquess of Milford Haven cooing in a gimball with the ambassador's daughter. The Marquess is a pleasant, snaggle-toothed young man, but I don't care who grabs him, and would feel more impact from a snapshot involving Betty Grable's legs. I only buy the Alg Khan when he is wearing Rita Hayworth. So far as I am concerned, the Lady Iris Mountbatten is merely a visiting sponger who indorses things for money and occasionally bounces checks.

Everybody Has 'Em
I even think we overplayed the royal romance and its recent royal result. Lilibet's husband, and Lilibet's baby, may be of the greatest symbolic importance to England, which hasn't got much left except the royal family. It seems to me that any baby is a supreme miracle, which screams and wets its pants and gets the colic—and everybody has 'em. Elizabeth's baby is a very special baby, but not a bit more special than any other little wrinkle-faced yowler to its particular parents.

Certainly the new prince is newsworthy here, but not shattering so. If you go for public matings, I think that Lana Turner and the Topping boys lift the blood-pressure higher than a nuptial involving a Hapsburg lip. And if you are looking for the sweet cinderella stuff, as anti-dote to taxes and the kremlin, you will walk a long mile to beat the romance of Winthrop Rockefeller and his Bobo, the coal-miner's dotter. As news gists, I will buy our domestic aristocrats over the imports, every time, especially when they have a flair for acting peculiar in public.

The word "restaurant" was first applied in America to dining rooms of the better hotels and to a few high class a la carte dining places.

A streamlined gift for travelers is this four-in-one set of suitcases which the young couple below is admiring. Nested design of the canvas cases makes possible space-saving storage between trips.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Have you a gypsy on your Christmas list?

New streamlined, space-saving luggage and cleverly designed travel accessories make the selection of a gift for a gadabout a cinch this year.

A four-in-one "nest" of suitcases, for example, is designed to give a pair of gypsies a set of matched luggage at a moderate price. Four suitcases—two styled for men, two for women—which graduate in length from 29 inches to 21 inches nest one inside the other for space-saving storage between trips. Made of waterproofed durable canvas, these cases are bound in cowhide to give added resistance to wear and scuffing at the edges.

Passport-sized billfolds are designed to simplify the globe-trotter's travel problems. Special compartments are designed to keep money, passports and business papers separate. Cards or credentials slip into transparent swing-windows for easy visibility.

To help the motorist or the arm-chair traveler map his itinerary is the aim of a precision-made device for measuring distances on maps. When the device is pushed along a road line on the map, a dial records distance in inches or centimeters which can then be computed into miles by using the map's miles-per-inch scale.

Postal Scale

Another candidate for the gypsy's favor is a tiny postal scale which swings out of a leather case. This is designed to weigh a traveler's letter home to solve the problem of figuring out the amount of postage needed.

More luggage earmarked for the traveler includes the fitted over-night case with removable jewel case and easel-back makes-up mirror. A zippered leather tie case designed for the gentleman traveler has a fold-down hook attached so that ties can be hung up with no necessity for removal from the container. A carrying case for baby's provisions has space for formula bottles and separate pockets for dry and wet diapers.

Serve a fall fruit cup of seeded grapes mixed with diced pineapple and banana; squeeze lemon or orange juice over the fruit for extra flavor and garnish with a sprig of mint. This fruit cup may be used as an appetizer or for dessert.

Flavoring should be added to custards, boiled frosting, candies, and so forth, when they are cold, otherwise part of the essence may evaporate.

To Win a Man's Christmas Cheers

Gifts that cater to masculine hobbies and recreations will win Christmas cheers from men. Wearing apparel is a gift to the happy hunter, center, and includes his bright red Hudson Bay mackinaw and matching cap, washable plaid wool shirt, and dual-purpose driving and shooting gloves. His new .32 rifle has a

Bidding for masculine approval on Christmas morning are gifts that cater to a man's hobby or recreational interest and can back up handsome design with practical performance.

A top candidate for the favor of the outdoor man is the Hudson Bay mackinaw which this season makes its first postwar appearance. These rugged coats are made from thick Hudson Bay wool blankets brilliantly dyed and finished to insulate the hunter against winter weather. Hunting caps to match the colorful coats have unbreakable visors, turn-under ear-flaps.

Improvements in dyes and finishes used for boldly-plaided wool shirts make these gift-togs as washable as cotton shirts. More newcomers for the outdoor guy are dual-purpose gloves which contribute a soft alpaca wool back with pigskin palms to insure a good grip on steering wheel or gun.

A new gun which is certain to capture the favor of the hunter is a .22 rifle mounted on a tenite plastic gun stock. The plastic stock is scientifically balanced to conform to a marksman's demands and a hard, lustrous surface regains gleam when wiped with a cloth.

Ready to help a fisherman set new records is a clear lustron plastic creel kit. This is a box with dividers for lures and tackle that fits on top of the creel. A window on one side provides the opening through which fishes are slipped into the creel. Bright plastic lures and tiny thermometers to test water temperature are more welcome additions to a fisherman's gear.

Weight Adjustable

Golfers will be intrigued by aluminum "woods" which can be adjusted in weight to suit individual needs. This adjustment is made in the aluminum head by means of a screw-in plug which carries removable discs that weigh one-sixteenth of an ounce each.

A practical gift designed to appeal to a gadget-lover is a miniature flashlight attached to a key chain. A one-inch bantam battery in this flashlight provides power enough for a strong beam of light.

Gadget for the sportsman is a cigarette lighter on a cord that can be hooked to a buttonhole to eliminate a search through pockets for an elusive match. The flameless lighter, it is claimed, works as well outdoors as indoors and will even do its job in the rain.

CHRISTMAS PUNCH

Hot spiced cranberry punch is a Yule favorite. Make it by cooking eight cups of cranberries and eight cups of water until the skins pop open. Then strain them through a cheesecloth. To the juice add 1½ cups of sugar, two or three sticks of cinnamon, and 15 to 20 cloves. Cook for five minutes; add a sliced lemon and four cups of freshly brewed tea. Pour into a large, sparkling glass punch bowl and sprinkle with nutmeg. Serve piping hot.

Air Travel Spotting Takes In Whole Sky

By JAMES J. STREIBIG

Indianapolis, (AP)—The first move in a new air traffic control program, aimed at letting ground watchers spot the position of every plane in the sky, went on view Tuesday.

The program is part of long range plan to (1) Give the United States weather-free airline service, (2) Sound a prompt alarm if ever a stranger shows up in American air, and (3) Permit swift mobilization of defense planes.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, was to be on hand at Weir Cook airport for a demonstration of the initial step—a new all-directional radio range which permits unlimited sky paths, instead of just a few well-defined air lanes.

The demonstration is part of a three-week show of equipment being given at the Civil Aeronautics Administration's experimental station by the radio technical commission for aeronautics. The commission is composed of representatives of governmental and private agencies concerned with the air navigation.

Most of the estimated $1,113,000,000 cost of the 15-year program is being charged to national defense. Only one-fourth of the total will be spent by the airlines, to equip their planes for almost completely automatic flight.

CAA administrator D. W. Rentzel said that with new equipment, qualified pilots may come into air ports with the ground visibility at only 200 feet and forward vision limited to one-half mile—double last year's best operational performance.

A tiny jet fighter-plane, small enough to be carried within the belly of a giant bomber, is one of the new developments in military aircraft. It will enable heavy bombers on long-range missions to carry their own fighter protection.

COMES TO ENDNumber Of Deer Killed
Fewer Than Unusual

Tuesday spent fins to the 1948 deer hunting season in upper Michigan, but few returning hunters were in evidence. The day before Thanksgiving day was, to all intents and purposes, the close of the season for most down state hunters.

The season was, in many ways the poorest in years. At least in the Manistique vicinity, long regarded as one of the finest deer hunting grounds in the state, poaching activities had decimated the number of animals and frightened the rest of the deer into deep cover to such a degree, that even local hunters who know where to hunt and seldom miss their deer, were empty handed this year.

The number of hunters visiting the area is generally reported to be larger than usual although official data on this subject is not available.

Justice court was kept busy throughout the season with cases of petty game violations. Most of these were pre-season violations in which hunters keeping their guns handy in their cars came to grief.

The only case tinged with sensationalism was that in which a number of hunters, bent on preventing the theft of a deer took the law, into their own hands. This incident occurred in the Thunder Lake area about a week ago.

There was one death due to accidental shooting when Herman Wilcox, of Germfask, lost his life in a mishap Sunday morning.

Also on the serious side of the news during the hunting season, was the fire which completely destroyed the Northwoods Resort, one of the largest and most popular of its kind in the area.

Business Streets To Be Given Yule Tide Dress

Manistique's business streets will soon be decked out in Christmas finery.

Members of the city fire department have been going over the Christmas decoration equipment, making repairs where needed, and will soon be fashioning wreaths of evergreen which will be an important part of the decorative scheme.

The plans call for the stringing of colored lights at spaced intervals with the evergreen wreaths forming the top centerpiece of each string. The wiring will be strung by employees of the Manistique Light and Power company.

A gaily decorated tree at the point of intersection of Cedar and River streets will again be the crowning Yuletide touch.

Seasonable merchandise has already been placed on sale.

Chittendens Are In Edmonton On Business Mission

Fishing regulations that are a far cry from any statutes in this country have been noted by L. B. (Scoop) Chittenden, who with Mrs. Chittenden are sojourning in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

On the lakes where he is taking note of fishing operations on a commercial scale, the season opens December 1 and fishing is permitted only three days a week. No one is permitted on the lake until an official gives the signal and fishermen must return to shore by noon. Wardens are on hand to check all catches and take weights and when a certain number of pounds of fish are caught, the lake is closed to fishing.

The Chittendens report a nice trip and are very favorably impressed with Edmonton which they describe as a thrilling and busy city. They expect to be there several months.

Local Couple
Wed Saturday At

Miss Rose Mary Frankovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frankovich, New Elm street, became the bride of Leonard Courmay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Courmay, Schoolcraft avenue, in a ceremony performed Saturday, November 27 in St. Francis de Sales church. The vows were exchanged before the Rev. B. J. P. Schevers.

The altar of the church was decorated for the service with baskets of vari-colored mums. Traditional nuptial music was played by the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Agatha Hellsten of Chicago. Melvin Courmay, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride was attired in a gray suit with brown accessories, and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Hellsten wore a green suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow mums.

Mrs. Frankovich, the bride's mother, chose black with white accessories and Mrs. Courmay wore brown with green accessories. They wore corsages of mixed flowers.

A wedding dinner for 25 guests was held following the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Decorations were in pink and white with a four tiered wedding cake centering the bridal table. A reception was held in the evening at the V. F. W. hall for 100 guests.

The couple left later on a wedding trip to Chicago and points in Wisconsin. For traveling the bride wore a three piece gray suit with brown accessories. They will make their home in Iron Mountain where the bridegroom is employed.

The bride and groom are graduates of Manistique High school. The bridegroom is a veteran and following his discharge attended Lawrence College at Appleton.

POLICE SEEK
MISSING MANWoodman Last Seen
Three Days Ago

Police assistance has been asked in locating Philip Magan, 61, woodman, who has been missing since Sunday.

Magan has not been seen since he had dinner Sunday noon with a friend at the Fisher Hotel where he has been staying.

He had registered at the Fisher Hotel on Nov. 10 after leaving his woods job and Mrs. Louis Burcar, who operates the hotel, said he had been in a despondent mood.

It is reported that Magan had been drinking rather heavily and had publicly threatened to destroy himself.

A note, written by the man, was found in his room at the hotel but the text of it would not be revealed.

A check at Carlson's camp near Dukes in Marquette county, where the man had been working, revealed that he had not returned there and that when he departed from the camp early in November he left his tools on a stump in the woods where he had last been cutting. This is not the usual practice of a woodman who usually takes excellent care of his tools of trade.

A check of Carlson's camp near Dukes revealed that when he departed from the camp he left his tools on a stump where he had been working. This is not the usual practice of a woodman who usually takes excellent care of his tools of trade.

Magan, who was known by the name of Felix as well as Philip, is described as being 5 feet, 9 inches in height, 165 pounds in weight, of dark blonde complexion and when last seen was wearing a shirt of large black and white checks, long heavy wool trousers and a grey hat.

A description of the man has been broadcast to various state police posts of the peninsula.

Manistique Emeralds
Open Court Season
Against Soo Friday

Manistique, Dec. 1.—Manistique high school opens its basketball season Friday evening, meeting the American Soo on the local court.

Concerning the outcome of the game, Coach Hilton Ponto is displaying customary reticence, but he does not hesitate to say this year's team should be much better than last year.

All first string players are experienced and there is a wealth of good material in the supporting squad. Most of the team is showing much improvement over last year. They have been practicing daily since the close of the football season and are in good condition.

On the squad are Everett Patz, Bob Carlson, John Hockstad, Kenneth Smith, George McFarlane, Norman John, Eugene Schneider, Jack Minor, Donald Lancour and Richard Burns.

The starting lineup probably will be Hockstad and McFarlane, forwards; Carlson and Smith, guards; Patz, center.

Bowerman, Former
Giant Catcher, Dies

Romeo, Mich., Dec. 1 (AP)—Frank Bowerman, who claimed he helped get the famed Christy Mathewson into a New York Giant uniform, is dead.

The former Giant catcher died yesterday at his farm home near here. He would have been 80 years of age Dec. 4.

Bowerman's story was that he talked the Giant management into buying Mathewson's contract from Cincinnati.

The ex-big leaguer said he got an idea of how good Mathewson was one afternoon when he caught Christy's curves in a warm-up before a Giants-Cincinnati game.

Perkins Quintet
Is 32-23 Winner
Over Hermansville

Perkins, Dec. 1.—Sparked by Norbert Carignan, Alfred Perkins and Dick DePuydt, the Perkins cagers won an easy victory over Hermansville, defending Upper Peninsula Class E champions, here last night. The score was 32-23.

In the preliminary game, the Perkins seventh and eighth graders also won, 17-9.

It was Perkins' first victory of the season in four starts. Carignan set the pace with 12 points on four field goals and four charity tosses. Krouth added eight, and DePuydt contributed seven.

Perkins held a 20-6 halftime lead. With Pieron leading the way, he scored 15 points in all. Hermansville made its best bid in the third period when it outscored Perkins, 10-4. Perkins, however, held a 24-16 lead going into the fourth quarter and wasn't in trouble.

Berardo Earns Crack
at Canada Fight Title

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 1 (AP)—Dominic Berardo, 172, Windsor, earned a crack at the Canadian light heavyweight title last night by knocking out Bobby Giles, 174, of Brooklyn, N. Y., at the Windsor arena.

Freddie Stiles, president of the Canadian Federation of Boxing, was impressed when the Windsor fighter put his foe down for the count for his 21st straight win. It was a scheduled eight-round bout.

Trojans Look
For A Miracle
Against Irish

Los Angeles, Dec. 1 (AP)—Southern California's Trojans went about their football drills today, fully aware that mighty Notre Dame is headed this way and is heavily favored to take them apart here Saturday in the finale of the season for both elevens.

It will be the 20th meeting between the two in a series that began in the years of the late, great friendly rivals, Knute Rockne and Howard Jones, back in 1926.

Notre Dame is pointed for its 22nd consecutive victory, its 28th game without a loss—a victory streak interrupted by that famous scoreless tie with Army in 1946.

The incredible part of the thing is that the game is a sellout. More than 100,000 people will cram into Memorial Coliseum to see another great Irish eleven take on a Trojan team that has far more spirit than talent, an outfit that has been beaten by Ohio State, Oregon and California.

Last year it was recorded that the Trojans awaited the Irish much like condemned men awaiting the executioner. The observation drew caustic replies from Trojan rosters. One even wired that USC would upset the South Bend team.

Well, the execution took place on schedule—38-7.

But hope never dies, as witness last Saturday's result around the country, and there always is a chance for a miracle. Trojan rosters still hold out hope for a mir-

Black Hawks Zoom
Along With 4 to 2
Win Over Rangers

(By The Associated Press)
The Chicago Black Hawks, National hockey league doormats the past two seasons, are moving at a clip that will land them in the Stanley Cup playoffs for the first time since the 1945-46 season.

Coach Charlie Conacher's high-scoring and hustling Hawks have dropped only one out of their last six starts and share fourth place with the defending champion Toronto Maple Leafs today, five points in front of the last place New York Rangers.

The Hawks highest scoring team in the circuit, downed the Rangers, 4-2, last night while the Leafs and other teams were idle.

Little Doug Bentley shot the Hawks ahead during the first minute of play and before the season ended the Hawks boasted a 3-1 margin.

Jim Conacher who tallied four goals against the Rangers in Chicago Thanksgiving night, scored unassisted for the Hawks' second marker. Conacher, no relation to Charlie, has collected nine goals this season, seven of them against the Rangers. Conacher then set up Gaye Stewart with the third Chicago marker before Edgar Laprade netted for the Rangers in the last minute of play in the period.

Bep Guidolin tallied unassisted to account for Chicago's final goal half way through the middle frame. Laprade came through with his second goal six minutes later to complete the scoring. Laprade has eight goals to his credit six of them against the Hawks.

Fred Shero of the Rangers was injured in the final period when he was checked violently into boards by Chicago's Adam Brown. Shero suffered a six inch gash on his head. Brown was given a five minute major and then slapped with a ten minute misconduct penalty for arguing. Despite the advantage in manpower the Rangers failed to score while Brown was off for five minutes.

Buddy O'Connor, the Rangers' great center, made his first ap-

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

The Associated Press 1948 All-American team makes its bow today, and the AP all-Michigan high school football team will make its bow this Saturday. Watch for it!

Players from this area who have come in for considerable attention on all-state teams picked by Detroit newspapers with the assistance of coaches, officials and sports writers from throughout the state are Warren Gustafson, Herb Nicholson and Don Carlson, of Escanaba; Jim LeVeque, of Munising, and Bob Carlson, of Manistique.

Bucking all the competition afforded by top-ranking backs in Class A schools downstate, Herb Nicholson, fleet Escanaba ace, was given honorable mention on all three squads named; Don Carlson, his mate, was named on one; Jim LeVeque, chief backfield threat in Munising's undefeated season, was named on two, and Bob Carlson, tackle on a Manistique eleven that had one of its best seasons in a decade, made one selection.

"Moose" Gustafson made two firsts and one second. All of these gridders and others rated highly in the Upper Peninsula have a chance for additional honors when the AP all-Michigan prep squad is announced Saturday.

It might be interesting to make comparisons of this year's all-American team with the AP all-American teams of 1946 and 1947. There are three repeaters on this year's AP all-American team. They are Doak Walker, Southern Methodist back and Hisman trophy winner this season; Bill Fischer, Notre Dame guard, and Charles Bednari, Pennsylvania's one-man army at center.

The 1947 team follows: Paul Cleary, Southern California, and Bill Swacki, Columbia, ends; Bob Davis, Georgia Tech, and Dick Harris, Texas, tackles; Steve Suhey, Penn State, and Fischer, guards; Bednari, center; John Lujack, Notre Dame, Bob Chapuis, Michigan, Ray Evans, Kansas, and Walker, backs.

The 1946 team: Burr Baldwin, UCLA, and Elmar Madar, Michigan, ends; Dick Huffmann, Tennessee, and George Connor, Notre Dame, tackles; Weldon Humble, Rice, and Alex Agase, Illinois, guards; Paul Duke, Georgia Tech, center; Lujack, Charles Trippi, Georgia; Glenn Davis and Felix Blanchard, Army, backs.

Gladstone Opens Cage
Season With St. Joe

Gladstone, Dec. 1 — Gladstone high school cagers open their 1948-49 season here Friday evening when they entertain St. Joseph high of Escanaba.

Coach Eldon Keil has built his team around three returning lettermen: namely, Phil Creten, Bill Rajala and Charles Green, jr. Making bids for places on the quintet are Larry LaPlant, Richard Swenson and Jim Schram. Also in the scrap are Ray Alworden, Dick Stade and Marvin Jandro.

The Parochials of Escanaba will have the advantage of having opened the season earlier and having two games already under their belts. They won from Bark River-Harris, 49-26, in their opener and then dropped a close one, 36-32, to Escanaba last weekend.

They also have a number of veterans from last year's strong five including Gerald Gleich, Gerald Harris, Jack Miron, Ray Menard and Phil Legault.

A pep session in preparation for the game will be held Friday morning at 11:45 o'clock at Gladstone high school. It is in charge of the annual staff.

Hardwares Here
Saturday; VFW
at Home Sunday

With Escanaba playing at Marquette and St. Joe at Gladstone Friday night, two fast independent basketball league tilts will fill the basketball bill in Escanaba this weekend.

The Delta Hardwares, 1948 champions of the Northern Wisconsin Michigan loop, will make their first start on a 100 per cent independent schedule by playing host to the Wesley Freighters of Marinette and Menominee at the Bonifas gym at 8:30 Saturday night. The Wait Window and Pepsi Cola will play a 7:15 preliminary.

Hardwares to be seen in action are Tom and Bob Dufour, Ed Gauthier, Bob Anderson, Don Ohman, Warren Fisher, Tom St. Germain and Don Scott. They have been practicing daily in preparation for a fast exhibition schedule that includes a clash with the House of David in Bonifas gym Thursday, Dec. 23.

Escanaba VFW of the NWM wheel will go to Norway Saturday night but will return for a conference game with the Iron River Truckers in Bonifas gym Sunday afternoon. The main go will start at 2:30, and a preliminary is slated for 1:15.

B—Molenda, Ironwood.

Warren Gustafson, burly tackle, and Herb Nicholson, halfback sparkplug and speedster, of the Escanaba high school football team, landed berths on the 1948 all-U. P. prep team selected by 67 coaches, officials and sports writers of Upper Michigan. Bob Carlson, Manistique tackle, and Jim LeVeque, Munising back, were honored by being selected for the second all-U. P. eleven.

Gustafson, who already has been named on two all-state teams, is regarded as the No. 1 lineman of the U. P. and its outstanding individual performer of the past season, and Billy Wells, Menominee breakaway runner, is generally regarded as the No. 1 back in the U. P. It was he who paced undefeated Menominee to its second straight U. P. championship.

Others rated with Wells as the cream of the Upper Peninsula backfield crop are Nicholson, Escanaba signal-caller and spark who was just a step ahead of his triple-threat backfield mate, Don Carlson, and Bill Olivanti, Iron Mountain, a powerhouse both on offense and defense for the Menominee range champions.

Bob Carlson, of Manistique, was outstanding in the Emeralds' best season in a decade, and LeVeque was the back who paced the Munising Mustangs to their best season since 1929. They were undefeated champions of the Great Lakes conference.

Escanabans accorded honorable mention were Gary Abrahamson, stellar end; Dick Barron, guard; Don Carlson, back, and Howard Perron, fullback, who was equally capable of picking up short yardage and squirming away for long runs in the open field. Some of his runs were the most spectacular of the year.

Two Escanaba St. Joseph's players were accorded honorable mention. They were Walter Marenger scrappy guard, and Gerald Harris, versatile back.

The honorable mention list:
Ends—Deschaine, Menominee; Lowden, Stambaugh; Abrahamson, Escanaba; Zarek, L'Anse; Stern, Hancock; Cox, Munising; Deitz, Soo; Frelz, Newberry; Schultz, Kingsford; Wojcihowski, Wakefield.

Tackles—Pederson, Marquette; Thome, Stephenson; Choquette, Stambaugh; Vittone, Wakefield; Juntunen, Houghton; Ganga, Iron Mountain; Knudson, Ishpeming; Devine, Norway.

Guards—Lessard, Menominee; Szaroletta, Ontonagon; Suparent, Ironwood; Reiten, Kingsford; Gambolis, Wakefield; Krajewski, Munising; Roemer, Manistique; Bishop, L'Anse; Lake, Crystal Falls; Miller, Lake Linden; Barron, Escanaba; Marenger, St. Joseph.

Centers—Treado, Iron River; Skuggen, L'Anse; Grigg, Ironwood; Carlson, Stambaugh.

Backs—R. Johnson, Menominee; Carlson, Escanaba; Devine, Norway; Dahms, Iron River; Harris, St. Joseph; Cudaby, Wakefield; Gustafson, Marquette; Quilan, Newberry; Hillier, Munising; Buzni, Wakefield; Larsen, Crystal Falls; Chonay, Calumet; Mayo, L'Anse; Gemignani, Hancock; Richards, Houghton; Thomas, Kingsford; Rivers, Negaunee; Nault, Ishpeming; P. Johnson, Menominee; Perron, Escanaba; Hartman, Manistique; Cassin, Ironwood; Sibald, Soo; Peshek, Kingsford.

Conn Starts Training
Today for Dec. 10 Go
With Champion Louis

Chicago, Dec. 1 (AP)—Billy Conn was scheduled to begin training today for his six round exhibition fight in the International Amphitheater Dec. 10 with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

Louis is expected to open training quarters tomorrow.

The champ figures he will have close to $100,000 in exhibitions by Dec. 15. He will box in January, and has a backlog of about 50 American and Canadian cities asking for dates.

In previous exhibitions, Louis received $14,500 at Cleveland, $9,000 in Detroit, $7,500 in Washington, D. C., $7,000 in Kansas City, $6,000 at St. Louis and $4,000 in Oklahoma City.

The Brown Bomber usually gets a $3,500 guarantee plus a percentage. Against Conn he will receive 32½ per cent with the former challenger getting 22½ per cent. A sellout of 12,000 fans (at a $7.50 top including tax) is virtually assured for the bout.

Bolanos Wants Fight
With Williams Again

Los Angeles, Dec. 1 (AP)—Enrique Bolanos, lightweight pride of Mexico, finds himself practically out of opponents today except for his No. one quarry Champion Ike Williams.

The handsome contender took care of an outstanding foe, Tommy Campbell, Rock Island, Ill., Negro in vicious style last night, winning a unanimous 12-round decision and retaining his California lightweight title. Each weighed 134½ pounds.

Bolanos' Manager, George Parnassus, said his fighter's one ambition is for a third match with Williams, and negotiations for a bout may be renewed even today. Williams stopped Bolanos two years ago and won a split decision in 15 rounds last May.

Doak Walker Wins
Heisman Trophy

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—Doak Walker, All-America halfback from Southern Methodist University, is the 1948 winner of the Heisman Trophy.

Walker received 778 votes from sports writers and broadcasters as the year's outstanding football player. Charlie Justice of North Carolina was second with 443 votes and Chuck Bednari, Pennsylvania center, third with 336.

Other receiving votes were: Jackie Jensen of California, 143; Stan Heath of Nevada, 113; Norman Van Brocklin of Oregon, 83; Emil Sitko of Notre Dame, 73, and Jack Mitchell of Oklahoma, 68.

BIG NINE BASKETBALL

Chicago Dec. 1 (AP)—The Big Nine, with upwards of 90 lettermen plus an excellent stockpile of sophomores ready for action, opens the 1948-49 basketball season tonight with two games. The honor of taking the first bounce goes to Wisconsin and Iowa, neither of which have figured in pre-season championship reckoning. Omaha is at Iowa while Ripon goes to Wisconsin.

Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard of Army are the only two teammates ever to be chosen three straight years on The Associated Press All-America team.

nominee: Perron, Escanaba; Hartman, Manistique; Cassin, Ironwood; Sibald, Soo; Peshek, Kingsford.

Randolph Lukens Enters Employ Of City Of Escanaba

C. Randolph Lukens, for the past several months a personnel technician with the salary standardization division of the New York State Civil Service department in Albany, N. Y., arrived here last night to begin a two-year "internship" with the city management of Escanaba.

Lukens, a veteran of four and a half years in the U. S. Army of World War II, holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in public administration from Syracuse university.

He will assist the city manager, A. V. Aronson, in the many phases of city manager work, and will become familiar with the workings of the various departments. His length of stay is optional with him. The two year period has been recommended by the International Association of City Managers, to provide adequate background and training for city manager work.

"Escanaba is considered an excellent city in which a young 'intern' can receive training because it is one of few cities which has four public utilities and because most construction work is done by the city instead of by contractors," City Manager Aronson said this morning.

Lukens served in the Pacific theatre during World War II and received the Purple Heart. He was discharged as captain. He is married and has one son, seven months old. His family will remain in Syracuse until he finds a house.

Salary for Lukens has been set at $2400 a year for the first year. Over 900 U. S. cities now have the council-manager form of government. Many of them are offering similar assistantships or "internships" for training city managers.

Cass City Democrat Says He'll Be New State Racing Boss

Detroit, Dec. 1 (AP)—Gov.-Elect G. Mennen Williams' appointment of a state racing commissioner got some before-the-fact attention here yesterday.

The appointment, said Herman Doerr, Tuscola County Democratic chairman, will be given to himself.

Doerr, conceding that Williams hadn't said anything publicly, made his statement at a Press conference.

The governor-elect was in Washington and out of reach for comment.

Up to now Williams had avoided any particular mention of the subject. In the meantime Lewis M. Bredin, present commissioner, has volunteered to stay on as long as he is wanted.

Doerr, a Cass City automobile dealer, said he was informed of his forthcoming appointment by "high sources in the Democratic party."

He said he would retain William Dowling as his assistant. Dowling is assistant to Bredin.

Navy Tests Bombs In Sawed-Off Gun

Washington, (AP)—The Navy is testing 2,000-pound bombs and guided missiles by firing them from a sawed-off gun with a two-foot muzzle.

Compared to the usual drop test methods, the new way is cheaper, an official said. Besides, he added, you hit the target every time. For one thing, it's only 50 feet away.

The gun was originally a 16-inch main turret rifle on the battleship South Dakota, which the Japanese damaged with a 500-pound bomb in the battle of Santa Cruz. It was rebored to a 24-inch diameter making the heavy steel barrel much thinner, and chopped to about 20 feet in length.

Army Brass Throws Swank Party For Denver Inductees

Denver, (AP)—Colorado's first postwar draftees pinched themselves and wondered if this is the Army.

The Army threw them a swank party Monday night. It made them Cinderella generals. Tough old sergeants jumped at their commands. The brass looked on and smiled.

There were dates and bands and songs and comedy. And there was food that never graced a wartime chow line.

When it was all over, they went back to warm hotel rooms instead of cold tents of wartime induction centers. But Tuesday they headed for Fort Ord, Calif., and the realities of basic training.

The party was all a part of the Army plan to prove there's a new look in soldiering. But it still was by the numbers. The 22-page script for the affair was big enough to swallow a D-Day field order.

As one inductee put it, "we weren't exactly invited. We weren't exactly ordered. They told us very nicely that we had to go. It was all part of the things we had to do the day we were inducted."

There was a little of the old hurry-up-and-wait. The group was told to be on hand at 7 p. m. The party got underway 35 minutes later.

Sarges Get C-Rations
A sergeant lined them up and paired them off with their dates. USO and YWCA hostesses left formal gowns. Sixty-one men were slated for induction but six were turned down at the last moment. Nobody remembered to tell the girls so there were six spares.

The couples marched in. The program called it a "Grand March x x x a slow stately march to left of dignitary guests table down center aisle in a column of twos up to the stage and from there designated tables."

The men pinned corsages, also courtesy of the Army, on their dates. The girls pinned stars on the men and gave them printed commissions as general for the night.

While 30 sergeants sat on the dance floor and ate C rations, hotel waiters served orange juice, prime ribs, rissole potatoes, peas, salad, rolls and butter, ice cream, cake and coffee.

There was a floor show. Then

ART HUNCH MAY BE 200-TO-1 SHOT—Bernie Martin, 21, of Houston, Tex., studying at the Newark (N.J.) Academy of Arts, saw this painting in a second-hand store and, on a hunch, coughed up five dollars from his GI allowance for it. He showed it to the experts at his school and they suggested he take it to New York's Metropolitan Museum. Met officials said he "might have something" and told him to try identification at the Boston Museum of Arts. So Bernie hitchhiked up there. He was told that the portrait was of the French school, dating back to the early 1800's and "it appears to be worth at least $1000."

Jetplanes Are Used For Counting Ducks

Washington—The tough job of counting wild ducks and geese at their wintering grounds was made easy and speedy with a jet plane and high-speed camera, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service reported today.

The plane, a U. S. Air Force RF-80, photographed with a Sonar S-7 camera a 22-mile strip of marshes where wildfowl were feeding in California's San Joaquin Valley in 3.3 minutes recently. A ribbon picture 9.5 inches wide was made with the camera, which was synchronized with the 600-miles-per-hour speed of the plane.

Aerial surveys with slower planes have been handicapped by the roar of the plane's engines which frightened the birds and caused them to break into flight. Some of them would fly out of the camera's range. But the jet plane went over the ducks and geese before they were aware of its noise.

there was dancing.

At midnight, the band gave out with a roll of the drums and 12 loud bangs with the cymbals. The party was over. The girls went home. Two sergeants lined the men up, shouted "forward march" and took them back to their rooms.

Recruiters Explain How Young Men May Procure Commission

To be eligible for appointment as a second lieutenant under the Army's new officer procurement program, a young man must have at least one half of the credits toward an accredited college or university degree, at least one year of military service in World War II and must be able to meet other physical and moral requirements, it was announced here yesterday.

The first two Michigan men to receive commissions under this program are Robert O. Evans, Detroit, and Roger A. Battaglia, Grand Rapids. They will take a special 12-week course of instructions in the branch of the service to which they were assigned.

Through this program, termed the "easiest method ever provided by the Army for qualified men to obtain a commission," the Army hopes to relieve the critical shortage of officer personnel created by the expansion of the Army through selective service and stepped-up voluntary enlistment.

Complete details may be obtained at the U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting station at 1215 Ludington street, Escanaba.

tional and world leaders. In the years before and during World War I he was confidential adviser to the British and French ambassadors, and President Taft and Wilson entrusted him with many state secrets, as did many others.

Biased News Banned
Throughout his journalistic career Noyes stressed above all that newspapers must tell the news impartially. He was a leader in the departure from the personal journalism which characterized the late 19th century, declaring when he retired as AP president: "I pray God that the time may never come when any individual can dictate to the newspapers of the United States the nature of the reports that they give."

It was on that basis that Noyes early lent his efforts to setting up the Associated Press, joining in 1893 with Melville E. Stone—who later became the AP's first general manager—Victor Lawson of the Chicago Daily News, and others to plan a cooperative news gathering organization. The present Associated Press was organized in 1900, with Noyes as president.

His association with Lawson led Noyes into the publishing field in Chicago. There, in 1902, he became editor-in-chief of the Record-Herald, which had been formed by merging Lawson's Morning Record and Herman H. Kohlsaat's Times-Herald.

Noyes later acquired all the stock in the paper. In 1910 he sold out to return to Washington as president of the Star. Under his direction that paper achieved a prominent position in both the editorial and advertising fields.

Communists Get Warning To Go Slow In Berlin

Moscow accord of Aug. 30 and developments in Berlin since.

Vishinsky May Balk

The Russians, who want Soviet-sponsored marks to be the sole legal currency in Berlin, agreed to Bramuglia's plan before this stipulation was entered.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky may indicate today whether Russia will stand hitched.

If she does, the neutral commission could begin work at once, with big four experts standing by here to give a hand if necessary. It would represent an important Russian concession.

If she doesn't, the Berlin wrangle will be back about where it was when Bramuglia started his peace-making efforts Oct. 5. He stepped down last midnight as November president of the council.

Russia has long contended the Berlin settlement should be based on the Moscow agreement of Aug. 30. That agreement never panned out because details were left to the four-power military governors in Germany and they couldn't get together.

Argentina, Belgium, Canada, China, Colombia and Syria would provide one man each for the neutral Berlin commission under Bramuglia's plan. Also on the commission would be an economic expert to be nominated by Secretary-general Trygve Lie. The group would seek to finish its work in 30 days.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Berlin, Dec. 1 (AP)—Communists took over complete control today of the Berlin city hall, which lies in the Soviet sector.

Russian-controlled German police barred the acting mayor of the legally elected anti-Communist government of Berlin from his office in the city hall.

This display of force followed up the Putsch yesterday in which Berlin Communists named their own rump city administration.

The acting mayor is Ferdinand Friedensburg, a Christian Democrat. Five officers of the Russian-controlled police stopped him at the door when he sought to enter his office at the city hall.

The police in the Russian sector are headed by Moscow-trained Paul Markgraf, who has refused to accept his dismissal ordered by the anti-Communist government.

Friedensburg and a few other elected officials had retained offices in the city hall after riotous Communist demonstrators had driven the anti-Communist city assembly and most other officials to western Berlin, which is occupied by the United States, Britain and France.

Friedensburg's aim was to maintain at least the symbol of a central administration for this divided city as long as possible. Now the Communists apparently are putting a halt even to that fiction and taking over in force.

Chicago, Dec. 1 (AP)—Bennie Huffman of Rileyville, Va., 32-year-old manager of the Muskegon, Mich., club last season, has been named skipper of the Chicago White Sox' Waterloo, Ia., farm club in the Class B Three I league.

Huffman, who broke into organized baseball in 1937 as a catcher with the St. Louis Browns, piloted Muskegon to third place in the Class A Central league. He succeeds Pete Fox, former Detroit Tiger outfielder, at Waterloo.

Denver—Two bicyclists pedaled and pushed more than 1,000 miles each to make new homes in Denver. By chance, they met at Wiggins, Colo., and rode the last 65 miles together.

They are Alexander Cook, 23 of Syracuse, N. Y., and Allan Rose, 24, of Chicago. Cook decided on a wartime visit to settle in Denver.

After completing an accounting course at Syracuse University, he started an 1,800 mile trek west. It took him 30 days.

Rose chose to move to Denver when he found overcrowding of schools prevented him from continuing his engineering studies in Chicago. He made the trip in 14 days of actual travelling.

Fully loaded, their bikes weighed about 60 pounds each.

Truck Driver Gives Away 200 Tires As His Doors Fly Open

Kansas City, Dec. 1 (AP)—Truck driver Joe Starr wondered why other motorists tagged along behind him as he drove from Kansas City to Warrensburg, Mo.

Now he knows.

Starr left Kansas City Monday with a truckload of 630 new passenger tires, valued at $15 to $16 each. When he stopped for coffee at Warrensburg 50 miles away, the truck's rear doors were open. Approximately 230 tires had bounced out along the way.

He traced his route but only found two tires in the darkness.

"I should have suspected that something was wrong," Starr said in reporting his loss to the state highway patrol. "I noticed several cars which could have passed me easily were tagging along behind. I guess they were waiting for more tires to fall out."

Patrol cars searched the highway yesterday and found a few tires. A couple of honest motorists also turned some in. But 200 still were missing last night.

Starr, of St. Louis, was hauling the tires from the Goodyear plant at Topeka, Kas., to a branch depot at Indianapolis.

Hunts Four Seasons And Dies With Deer

Buckhannon, W. Va., Dec. 1 (AP)—Elmer Hupp, 49, had gone deer hunting for the past four seasons, but he hadn't bagged a single deer.

Again, he was among the first to take to the woods, Monday, when the season opened.

He and several companions separated for the day, arranging a rendezvous that afternoon. The meeting time passed, but Hupp didn't show up. His companions went in search of him.

Bill Burley, also of Buckhannon found him not far away—lying beside a six-point buck that had been brought down with a single shot.

A Davis, W. Va., physician said Hupp died of a heart attack.

One of the first earliest American eating places was Philadelphia's "Blue Anchor Tavern," opened as early as 1683 or 1684.

Shirt Studs Will Modernize Blouse

BY ALICIA HART

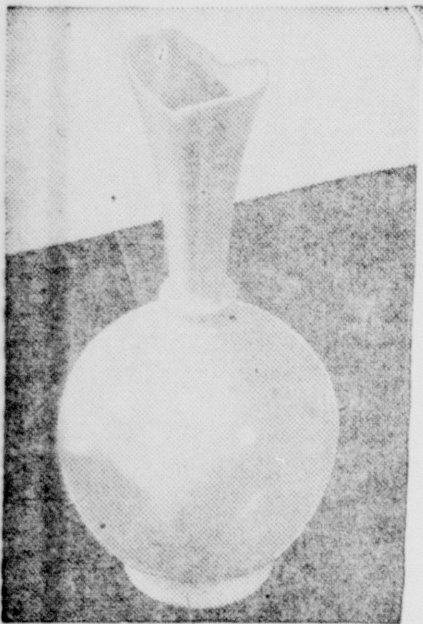

Give old blouses a new fashion fling this fall by replacing run-of-the-mill buttons with sparkling shirt studs.

A shirt front studded with glitter and cuffs flashing more of the same will put a simple blouse right up with the showy new styles which take their cues from fashions of Grandma's day.

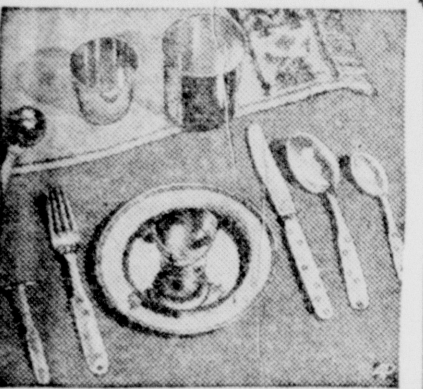

All you need do to emblazon an old shirt front with new glitter is to snip off buttons and make tiny button holes where they lodged. Buttonholes provide openings for stud shafts to slip through. Barrel cuffs, given the same treatment, are ready for the splashiest cuff links you care to show at the edge of a suit sleeve.

If you don't have studs or cuff links and can't swing a new set, you can make your own. Fancy buttons which are mounted on a metal or plastic back can be sewed or soldered to inexpensive stud shafts. And, incidentally the more glittery the buttons, the better. Linked together with a tiny chain, wire or even sewing thread, four buttons become a pair of cuff links. If you hesitate to tackle the job yourself, ask the help of your jeweler.

A pastry brush is useful many times in a kitchen. It's handy for brushing poultry when you are getting it ready for the broiler or the roaster and it's a help in buttering pans for baking.

Cosmetic gifts step out in gay masquerades. Lined up across the dressing table, from left to right, are a snow maiden disguise for cologne, a music-box container for perfume, and a brandy glass packed with make-up aids which poses as a ballerina. Tambourine compact, above, is strung on a necklace. Right, key chain links together a notebook and pencil, compact, lipstick and eyebrow pencil.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

New York—(NEA)—There are so many cosmetic gifts masquerading as toys this year that Junior is certain to drop his electro set on Christmas morning and yell for his Mama's music box.

Toy-like music boxes, which carol Christmas music when lids are lifted, package bottles of elegant perfume. Story-book stockings, bearing tinsel-written "Merry Christmas" messages, come packed with luxurious bath accessories. An accordion, which looks for all the world like a child's holds a compact, a lipstick, a small bottle of perfume and two cakes of soap scented to match. In the same whimsical vein is a flirtatious Snow Maiden who, wearing a frivolous hat, conceals inside of her frosted white holiday dress a name-famous cologne. The maid's cosmetic companion is her boy friend, a top-hatted snow man.

One novelty cosmetic package which Junior will want but which his Dad will snatch is a brandy inhaler disguised as a ballerina with a powder puff hat and a collar of tulle. But Dad won't get away with the brandy glass until its contents are emptied. These are make-up aids, a down powder puff and a small bottle of fine perfume. Other cosmetic packages with novelty appeal are designed to do double duty as decorations for trees and gifts for gals. One is a poly-poly Santa who comes apart and disgorges three A, B, C marked bottles of quality cologne. Hidden inside a gilded wood Christmas tree candlestick is a golden sable lipstick and a self-contained lipstick brush.

Luxury Lipstick

The most spectacular lipstick, designed for Christmas giving, is a 14-karat gold trinket with a 17-jewel watch tucked into the base of the case.

Bright star in the glittering galaxy of compacts is one of gold-tone metal ringed like a tambourine, with an heraldic crest embossed on the lid. This copy of a French antique vanity case may be hung from a heavy chain and worn as a necklace. Key to beauty is a new trinket which assembles five useful gold-filled gadgets on a key chain—compact, notebook, lipstick, eyebrow pencil and a pencil to write with. This might well be a Christmas-gift answer to the problem of what to give a gal who can never find what she's searching for in her purse.

Wrap Fun In Yule Packages

Inside the birdcage is a surprise gift, but the wrapping is almost as much fun as the present.

Turn string-mesh orange bag into family gift carry-all . . .

or conceal a paper box in a wood-patterned wall paper.

Pack a fancy-covered hatbox with gifts . . .

BY EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

New York (NEA)—You can make a little Christmas gift yield a lot of fun for the recipient, if you'll let your sense of humor go when you wrap up your packages.

Best way to win chuckles from friends, says Elizabeth Montgomery, famous stage costume designer, who conceals amusing packages, is to use incongruous containers.

To turn a bird cage into an amusing package, for example, Miss Montgomery bedecks it with Scotch tape patterned with a Christmas design. She glues the tape from top to bottom of the cage to make festive strips. After packing this gay container with a surprise gift, Miss M. ties the handle of the cage with a frou frou bow of Christmas ribbon.

You might make an intriguing carry-all for a flock of gifts to a family, by using a mesh orange bag. All that you need to do is to conceal the boldly lettered trademark on the bag, as Miss M. does, with an banding of Christmas wrapping paper and ribbon. The ribbon may be tied to make a bow. Anchor the festive bands securely to the bag with transparent strips of Scotch tape.

A shiny new cheese grater used as a container, for example, for a pair of nylon stockings or a pretty lace handkerchief is certain to win a smile from the recipient. Make the cheese grater worthy of its contents by criss-crossing its gleaming surfaces, as Miss M. does, with strips of festive tape. Stud the grater with gold star stickers and tie the handle with an enormous bow of red cellophane ribbon.

A cardboard hat box is fun to cover with odds and ends of Christmas wrapping paper or left-over wallpaper in handsome plaid or striped designs. After paper is cut out to fit and is neatly pasted over a hat box, pack with gifts and tie the lid tight with Christmas ribbon.

If you want a really distinctive wallpaper pattern for wrapping up a conventional box, use, as many clever package designers do, one of the new wood patterns which reproduces color, grain or bark with realistic effects. A box wrapped in one of these distinctive papers will further reflect your originality if you'll boriced the package with loops of colored Scotch tape and will use more of the same to make a center bow. Branches of pine needles or holly may be thrust through the ribbon bow and anchored to stay put with strips of transparent adhesive tape.

New paints used for decorating glass and glazed surfaces turn inexpensive articles into impressive Christmas gifts. The artist (above) paints a holiday motif on the lid of a plastic box by following a pattern which she holds under the surface. Finished gifts on the table in front of her are a plate, glass jar, flower-sprigged bottle. An opaque white design painted on a simple black glass vase (left) gives the container the look of an expensive import.

Don't Burp Baby, Mothers Advised

Washington—Don't "burp" the baby. This advice, contrary to that in all the baby books, was given by Dr. William F. Burdick, associate professor of pediatrics at Georgetown University School of Medicine, at the meeting here of the Medical Society of the District of Columbia.

Twins who at two and one-half months started vomiting most and sometimes all of their feedings were cited as an example of the trouble burping can cause. Their mother reported she never put the babies down until they got up their "bubbles," even though it sometimes took 15 minutes. When she was persuaded to let them suck without interruption until they seemed satisfied and then to put them down without burping, their vomiting stopped.

If baby shows discomfort, there may be some value to the burping procedure, Dr. Burdick said, but he thinks it is often carried too far. It takes a reversal of the normal peristaltic movement of the digestive tract to achieve a burp.

GUEST TOWELS... Irish linen in pastel colors, hand applied, embroidered.

he pointed out. The same reversal occurs in vomiting. This may explain the vomiting of some babies. Or, he suggested, they may vomit from resentment over being forced to burp.

THIS YEAR'S PARADE of Christmas cards include framed reproductions of fine paintings as well as topical, humorous greetings. A special greeting card addressed to the over-burdened postman is relished by New York mailman, William Schaub, top center. Pickled pine frame sets off the handsome reproduction of American artist John Whorf's "Birches, Winter Morning," bottom left. Art masterpiece reproduced top right is Raphael's "Small Cowper Madonna." Typical of this year's topical humor is the Santa with empty pockets, bottom right, and the Santa who masquerades as an election-year candidate, bottom center. Marking a trend to light-hearted romantic cards is the humorous greeting from a working girl which the young man is reading, top right.

BL EPSIE KINARD NEA Staff Writer

New York (NEA)—The something brand new that's been added to Christmas greeting cards this year is picture frames of handsome pickled pine moldings and convenient button-on-backs.

These are designed to be used to give a permanent place in the home to full-color reproductions of famous American Artist group paintings, which recipients are more reluctant to throw away.

In the category of cards worthy to be preserved are also new full-color reproductions of masterpieces from Washington's National Gallery of Art. Classics by Giotto, Raphael, El Greco, Rembrandt, Corot and other artists make up a brilliant selection of cards which reflect the Christmas spirit as it was portrayed by the masters.

Also new this year is the scope of "special title" Christmas cards. The Yuletide greeting specifically addressed to mothers and fathers works all the way down to grandchildren. These cards now go outside the family circle to embrace such friends as the doctor, dentist, butcher, milkman and postman, and are usually spiced with humor. The postman, for example, is pictured in a sweat dripping under the load of a heavy mail bag.

The special greeting card for the No. 1 man or the No. 1 gal is more inclined to be humorous this year than sentimental. The working girl's card to the No. 1 guy, for example, is apt to be a comic drawing of Miss Sadie Stenog slaving over her typewriter wearing a "new look" hat spiked with holly.

Christmas card humor, in general, is topical and rollicking. Fun poked at elections, the housing shortage, the high price of meat and the need for new cars swings from gentle to back-slapping.

CHRISTMAS STAR cut from foam rubber and edged with red ribbon makes a festive holder for candles and evergreen spikes.

Steam Makes Safe Resistant to Fire

Hamilton, Ohio (SS)—Steam, not steel, makes an approved safe fire resistant.

Edwin H. Mosler, Jr., of the Mosler Safe Company here, explains that vaporizing of moisture in chemically combined form in the insulation actually does the trick. During a fire, the moisture becomes steam at 212 degrees Fahrenheit. Great amounts of heat are dissipated in the transformation, thus keeping the inside safe temperature well below the danger point of 350 degrees Fahrenheit at which paper and records are likely to begin igniting.

Fusible plugs in the outside plate melt at a low temperature to provide minute vents through which the steam harmlessly escapes.

AS GOOD TO EAT as it is to look at is this green wreath decorated with lemons, cranberries, grapes and nuts.

BANDITS KILLED

Canton (AP)—Revenue guards killed 94 bandits and wounded 200 others along the Canton-Kowloon railroad in one week, Lt. Gen. George S. Yao told the Associated Press. Gen. Yao is commanding general of the revenue guards in this area.

He said his guards had cleared the bandits from the rail line. Those who were not killed or wounded "fled into the mountains," including the chieftain, Kwang Wu.

Pre-Cooking Aids Berlin Air Lift

Berlin (AP)—The Western Allies are taking part of the load off their blockade-hurdlers by flying in some pre-cooked foods for western Berliners.

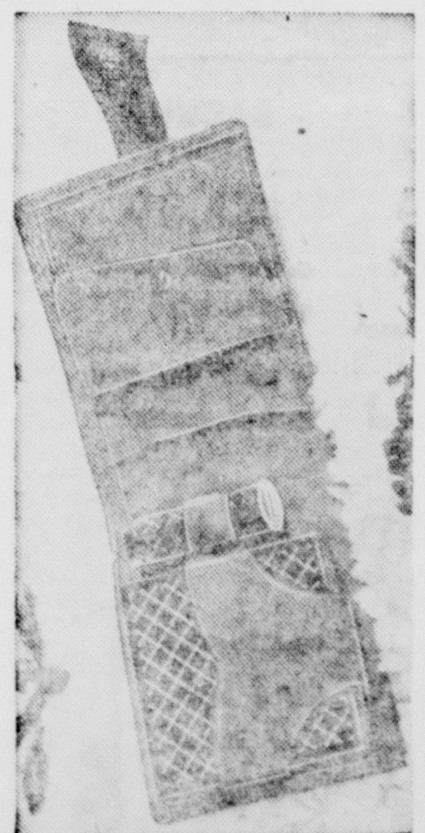

The more pre-cooked foods that can be supplied the less fuel is needed in German households. And fuel is the one big hurdle the airlift has not yet overcome. Strenuous efforts are being made to overcome coal shortages by a gigantic wood-cutting program, that is even taking every second tree off western Berlin's avenues. However, you can't burn wood in power plants.

Some 1500 tons of pre-cooked cereals, or substitutes, are being flown in monthly. Consisting of rolled oats and pulses (beans and peas), this tonnage comprises about one-half of the total monthly cereal ration for the western sectors of the city.

Japanese Hold Out On Anatahan Isle

Guam (AP)—The Pacific war still is not over for a small group of Japanese holdouts on Anatahan island, recently "bombed" with leaflets, pictures and American magazines. The air "raid" on the island 200 miles north of Guam was a softening-up operation preparatory to a future visit by an American graves registration search team.

The literature dropped was intended to convince the holdouts that the war was over.

BEAUTY WALLET . . . Compact, lipstick, plaid motif. Complete billfold to boot.

miniatures of the grown-up world for the child's realm of play.

The new emphasis on facts-of-life toys shows up in dolls, with washable hair, that can take pacifiers or bottles, cows that can be milked and dogs that produce litters at the yank of a zipper.

Although this turn toward realism may startle this year's visitors to Toyland, a spokesman for the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. says the trend goes back as far as the caveman. He says the proven popularity of dolls with moving eyes and baby-like voices which came out after World War I and animals, introduced during the 30's, which could be coaxed to eat, have encouraged the current crop of inventions.

This crop, which includes toys geared to build careers or develop capabilities, begins with punching bags for babies and advances to jet-propelled planes and realistic road scrapers. A road scraper, for example, which functions like the real McCoy on U. S. Highway No. 1, and which clears snow to boot, is designed to open Junior's eyes to the wonders of construction engineering.

For Hitch-Hiker
A new velocipede, designed to accommodate playground hitch-hikers, obliges the little passenger who bumps a ride with a safe back platform. This year's doll carriage is enough like a real baby's pram to qualify as one if the need should arise.

Another example of realism shows up in the true tone that can be plucked, strummed or pounded out of toy musical instruments. Many, like full-keved pianos and accordions, make effective use of new plastics.

Versatile plastic appears again to supply the numbers for a new counting house toy designed for scholarly small fry. Plastic numbers are weighted so that the scales will not balance unless junior's mathematics is correct.

Merchants Ready For Record Sales This Yule Season

BY DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeature Writer

Americans will celebrate their most bountiful Christmas this year, in a land of uneasy peace and unquestioned plenty.

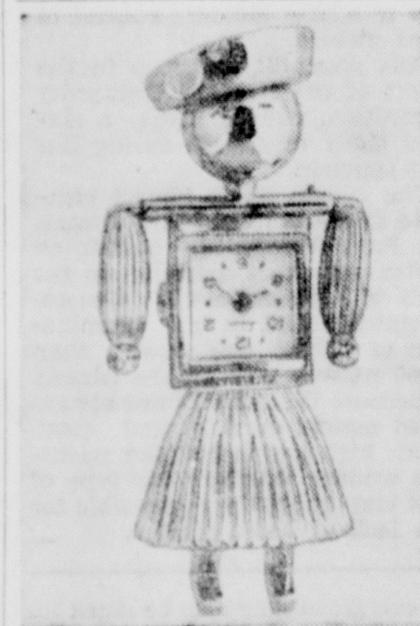

Though there has been a slackening of the hysterical buying spree which marked the first post-war years, merchants expect this Christmas to set a new record in gift sales. Money is still freely spent, and shelves are packed with all the once-scarce items for which the public yearned.

In the toy line, new wonders are ready to amaze and delight the small fry. There are atomic chemistry sets for boys, dolls that eat, drink, cry, wet their diapers and have their hair shampooed for the girls. There are robots with flashing eyes and legs that walk for the mechanical minded child, all the modern kitchen gadgets in miniature for pint-size housekeepers. There are washing machines that wash, electric irons that iron, stoves that cook, pop-up toasters, electric mixers and everything that saves household labor for Mother.

Nylon Lingerie

Most popular gift for grown-up girls this year will be nylon lingerie, now widely available in new and filmy styles. Lacy and alluring or tailored and trim, it's at the top of most gift lists.

LADY IN MOTION . . . Gay accessory for Christmas giving, designed by Harman.

Costume jewelry also is enjoying an ever-increasing vogue, and the manufacturers are ready with new glitter stuff, so cunningly made and carefully styled that it's hard to tell a rhinestone from a diamond, or a $5 facsimile from a $5,000 antique.

Nylon stockings are now so sheer that you can't see them at all once they are in place on the leg—but that's the way women want them. The newest colors are dark—deep brown, gun-metal, bronze or black, in cobwebby weights that make a mere shadow on the leg.

Furs are opulent, fabulous and with price tags astronomical. Best buy for the budget class is the mouton coat, newly styled and processed to make it look astonishingly like its more expensive sister, beaver. Mouton also is shown in improbable colors such as green, gray and navy blue, for the more daring and for the young.

For The Men

For the man of the family there are woolen socks, sweaters and shirts that can be tossed in the washing machine and come out the same size. The shrink-resistant process so long heralded is finally on the market, and generally available.

For the home, the television set is the No. 1 gift of 1948. The sets come in all sizes and price ranges, and are eagerly sought.

Even new automobiles may be obtained in time for Christmas, dealers insist, though you may have to know the president of the company.

In fact, about the only thing old Santa won't be able to deliver in time for Christmas this year is a new house.

DATE EQUIPMENT . . . A lip-stick for glamor and a watch to keep you on time.

Guatemalan gold clip.

Christmas gifts for women accent elegance like the at-home dinner dress and gold crocheted slippers worn by this lucky girl, or like her ermine melon muffs, black lace fan, red satin hosiery trunk. In the closeups: other gifts to deck her out from head to toe.

Glitter stockings.

New York—(NEA)—Influencing the styling of Christmas frolic for women is the most dress-up fashion season since the craze of the diamond-studded slipper.

Take the gift for which so many husbands will splurge—the luxurious negligee or hostess gown. This year, the styles in these evening frolics are beautiful, trousered like a harem queen's to at-home dinner duds with satin skirts and silk jersey tops.

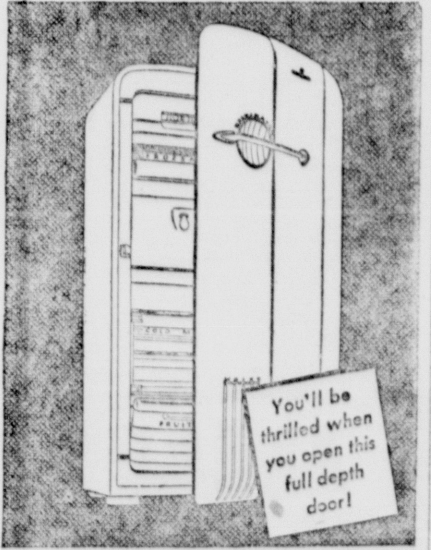

The big gold rush which has gone to the feet this season reflects its influence on slippers which step out as Christmas gifts. Among the popular dazzlers are five-strap loafers of gold elasticized thread crocheted for blissful stretch when tired feet slip into these easy-going sandals.

Victorian-styled melon muffs of luxury furs are so small that a little ermine, for example, puts a lot of fashion into a girl's Christmas sock.

So do flirty fans of simulated ivory paneled with pink satin and black lace, other Victorian styles which bow back this Christmas to a modern encore.

The last word in thoughtful design for the lady traveler is a brown calfskin case equipped with a removable fitted bag and an outside leather envelope for carrying magazines.

Jeweled Stockings
Most recent razzle-dazzle development in nylon hosiery is glittering stockings which time their debut for the convenience of the Christmas shopper. Calculated to pull men to stocking counters are sheer nylons lit up at the ankles with rhinestone fireflies. Bejeweled motifs glued on to stockings are designed to flash provocatively beneath the hemline of cocktail dresses.

All of this unprecedented interest in stockings has spurred the design of a red satin "hosiery trunk" which provides a tray and two drawers that hold 1½ dozen pairs.

Plaid wool button-up spats, designed to keep a gal in step with fashion, will rate high on this year's lists. So will Victorian-styled gauntlet gloves of suede which reflect a French designer's tricks of displaying a now-you-see-it, now-you-don't cuff of black silk braid.

The jewelry that glitters in a Christmas sock may be one-of-a-kind Guatemalan pieces. If a girl likes hers exclusive, Gold-dipped Mexican silver wrought by Guatemalan craftsmen into unusual designs makes distinctive necklaces, bracelets, earrings and belt clips.

In some past geologic times, it is believed, there was little difference between the types of plants which grew in widely separated parts of the world.
